

JEWPEdia

The Jewish
Encyclopedia

Brought to you by:

Chabad of
Moorpark
Jewish Center

4219 Tierra
Rejada Rd.

805-CHABAD-2
(242-2232)

JewishMoorpark
.com

JEWPEdia

The Jewish
Encyclopedia

Brought to you by:

Chabad of
Moorpark
Jewish Center

4219 Tierra
Rejada Rd.

805-CHABAD-2
(242-2232)

JewishMoorpark
.com

Article

Discussion

History

Edit this page

ת"ס

Contents

Information

Your Purim Guide

From Jewpedia, the Jewish encyclopedia

What is Purim?

Purim is a joyous Jewish holiday that celebrates the miraculous deliverance of the Jewish people in the ancient Persian Empire. Haman had plotted to annihilate all the Jews, however, the secretly-Jewish Queen Esther interceded to save her people. Purim marks this incredible reversal of fortunes, as recorded in the Scroll of Esther.

Purim is celebrated annually on the 14th day of the Jewish month of Adar, which marks the day following the victory of the Jews over their enemies. This year (2015) Purim begins on Wednesday, March 4 at nightfall and concludes on Thursday, March 5 in the evening.

How to Celebrate

The holiday of Purim has four special Mitzvos:

1. Listen to the reading of the Scroll of Esther on Purim night and again on Purim day to "re-live" the miracle.
2. Give charity to at least two needy people. Concern for the poor is a year-round responsibility, but on Purim it is a special mitzvah to remember the poor.
3. Send two ready-to-eat foods to at least one friend during the day of Purim. Sharing gifts of food highlights the importance of Jewish unity and friendship.
4. Eat, Drink and be Merry! Celebrate a festive meal on Purim day with friends and family, and rejoice in the Purim spirit.

Article

Discussion

History

Edit this page

ת"ס

Contents

Information

Your Purim Guide

From Jewpedia, the Jewish encyclopedia

What is Purim?

Purim is a joyous Jewish holiday that celebrates the miraculous deliverance of the Jewish people in the ancient Persian Empire. Haman had plotted to annihilate all the Jews, however, the secretly-Jewish Queen Esther interceded to save her people. Purim marks this incredible reversal of fortunes, as recorded in the Scroll of Esther.

Purim is celebrated annually on the 14th day of the Jewish month of Adar, which marks the day following the victory of the Jews over their enemies. This year (2015) Purim begins on Wednesday, March 4 at nightfall and concludes on Thursday, March 5 in the evening.

How to Celebrate

The holiday of Purim has four special Mitzvos:

1. Listen to the reading of the Scroll of Esther on Purim night and again on Purim day to "re-live" the miracle.
2. Give charity to at least two needy people. Concern for the poor is a year-round responsibility, but on Purim it is a special mitzvah to remember the poor.
3. Send two ready-to-eat foods to at least one friend during the day of Purim. Sharing gifts of food highlights the importance of Jewish unity and friendship.
4. Eat, Drink and be Merry! Celebrate a festive meal on Purim day with friends and family, and rejoice in the Purim spirit.

Dear Friend,

To life, to life L'Chayim!

Happy Purim From us to you

Drink L'chayim, Give a cheer

Have a joyous Happy year

Go on, have another L'chayim too!

Let's bring light to a world so dark

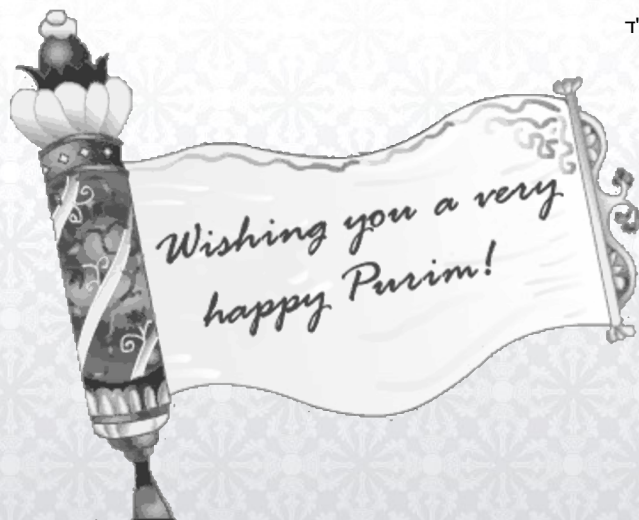

Join us, Chabad of Moorpark

Check the back of this note

Do all 4 Mitzvot

L'Chayim, bring Moshiach this year!

Rabbi Shimy, Devorah & Family

From Shimy & Devorah Heidingsfeld & Family

~~~~~

Chabad of Moorpark Jewish Center

www.JewishMoorpark.com

Dear Friend,

To life, to life L'Chayim!

Happy Purim From us to you

Drink L'chayim, Give a cheer

Have a joyous Happy year

Go on, have another L'chayim too!

Let's bring light to a world so dark

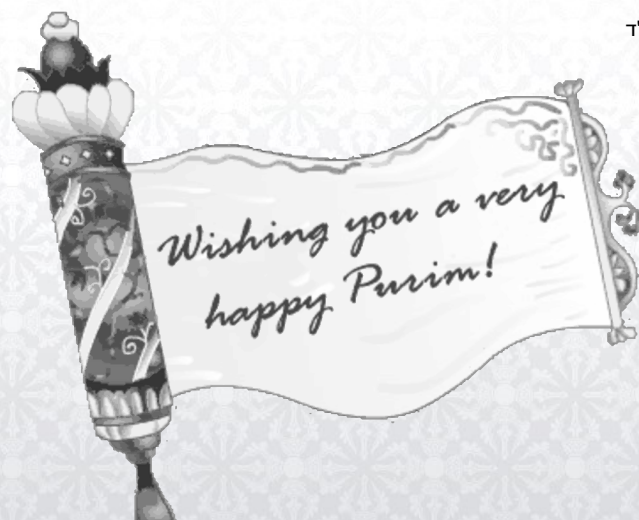

Join us, Chabad of Moorpark

Check the back of this note

Do all 4 Mitzvot

L'Chayim, bring Moshiach this year!

Rabbi Shimy, Devorah & Family

From Shimy & Devorah Heidingsfeld & Family

~~~~~

Chabad of Moorpark Jewish Center

www.JewishMoorpark.com