

ד"ס

Sukkot Mad Libs

Building a Sukkah

My Sukkah is made of _____. It has _____ a material number
_____, some _____ and some part of house color
_____. I decorated it with _____,
color noun
_____ and _____. All _____ noun noun noun are welcome to _____ and _____ in my verb verb Sukkah. I _____ a lot of Schach on the verb _____ of my Sukkah. My Schach is _____ part of house verb of _____ and _____. I
noun noun
_____ a/an _____ prayer before verb adjective _____ in the Sukkah. The _____ I verb noun
_____ to _____ my Sukkah are a verb verb
_____, nails, a _____, screws tool noun
and a _____.
equipment

A Wet Sukkos

_____ had a _____. Every year on name noun Sukkot, he _____ the same _____.
verb noun
_____ a plate of name verb
_____, _____, _____ and Jewish food food vegetable a/an _____, and _____ in fruit verb direction his Sukkah to _____. Do you _____ verb verb
what happened? It started _____ on his
verb
_____. His _____ turned body part noun
_____, his _____ turned to adjective noun
_____, and his _____ was _____.
adjective noun verb Jack went _____ to get out of the _____.
noun noun
_____ minutes later, he _____ out of number verb the window, and _____ that it was
verb _____ outside. But when he _____ in to adjective verb the Sukkah again, it was still _____.
verb

_____ was very _____. He couldn't name emotion _____ _____ the entire Sukkot! One verb mealtime day, he _____ his _____, "Why
verb noun
does it _____ in my Sukkah only, and
verb
_____ it's dry?" His _____ place noun
_____, "You need to _____ off
verb
your _____!"
noun

Lulav and Etrog

On Sukkot we _____ the Etrog and Lulav.
verb

The Lulav is a _____ . It's _____ .
type of tree part of tree _____, _____, and sharp at the color size

_____. The Etrog is a type of
noun

_____ that comes from _____,
noun country and is also grown in _____. It's

noun

_____ or _____, it has _____ color noun number bumps, and it's _____. The Lulav also has shape

_____ types of _____ number part of tree verb to it, the Hadas and the Aravah. The Hadas is a myrtle. It _____ really _____. The verb adjective

Aravah is a willow. It has _____,
size noun

and we use the kind that _____ near a verb

_____. The Etrog _____
noun verb

_____, and it _____ good too!
adverb verb

Simchat Torah

"I'm so _____," _____,
emotion verb name

"We just _____ the Torah!"
adverb verb

"What's so _____ about that?" _____
emotion verb

_____. "It took _____ the entire
noun noun

year! You'll soon _____. We'll all verb

_____ to _____,
verb noun verb

and _____ and _____ to adjective food noun

_____, and then the _____ will take
verb noun

out the Torah." "Why will they _____ out the
verb

Torah?" "To _____ with it! _____
verb noun

will _____ in _____,
verb number shape

say _____ "Lechaim!" to each other, and number _____ up very _____. "Cool! Can I verb time

_____ a _____, too?"
verb noun

My Sukkah is made of wood. It has four walls, some brown and some red. I decorated it with dried fruit, pictures and streamers. All people are welcome to come and eat in my Sukkah. I put a lot of Schach on the roof of my Sukkah. My Schach is made of bamboo poles and evergreen branches. I say a special prayer before eating in the Sukkah. The tools I used to build my Sukkah are a hammer, nails, a screwdriver, screws and a ladder.

Jack had a problem. Every year on Sukkot, he had the same problem. Jack prepared a plate of gefilte fish, challah, salad and an apple, and sat down in his Sukkah to eat. Do you know what happened? It started raining on his head. His fish turned soggy, his bread turned to mush, and his salad was watery! Jack went inside to get out of the rain. Twenty minutes later, he looked out of the window, and saw that it was dry outside. But when he went in to the Sukkah again, it was still raining! Jack was very frustrated. He couldn't eat dinner the entire Sukkot! One day, he asked his friend, "Why does it rain in my Sukkah only, and outside it's dry?" His friend answered, "You need to turn off your sprinkler system!"

On Sukkot we shake the Etrog and Lulav. The Lulav is a palm branch. It's green, tall, and sharp at the point. The Etrog is a type of lemon that comes from Italy, and is also grown in Israel. It's green or yellow, it has lots of bumps, and it's round. The Lulav also has two types of twigs attached to it, the Hadas and the Aravah. The Hadas is a myrtle. It smells really nice! The Aravah is a willow. It has long leaves, and we use the kind that grow near a river. The Etrog smells good, and it tastes good too!

"I'm so excited," said Jack, "We just finished reading the Torah!" "What's so exciting about that?" asked Jill. "It took us the entire year! You'll soon see. We'll all get flags to wave, and yummy candies and sweets to eat, and then the men will take out the Torah." "Why will they take out the Torah?" "To dance with it! Everyone will dance in seven circles, say many "Lechaim!" to each other, and stay up very late." "Cool! Can I get a flag, too?"